YOUNG TELLS HIS TALE

CUT THE BODY TO SHIP IN TRUNK.

Run Away From Scene of Crime to Hide Disgrace—Prisoner's Attorney Believes Him Insane—He Is Arraigned.

New York, Sept. 23.—William Hooper Young, the alleged murderer of Mrs. Anna Pulitzer, arrived here from Derby, Conn., in the custody of New York detectives. He looked fresh and much better than when he went through the trying ordeal of identification. He made no objection to his removal to New York.

William F. Hart of New York, who has been retained as counsel for Young, talked with Young for an hour or more. At the close of the interview, Hart said: "If this man is sane, he is all right, I do not know what to think. His story is more like that of a madman. It is simply wonderful. I want to have him examined by an expert on insanity before I go on. His motive was not revenge."

When the train was stopped the passengers were told to keep their seats. Then Young, who was in the smoking car, was taken off first. He was led to a closed carriage and accompanied by Detective Sergeants Hughes and Findley and Mr. Hart, the prisoner's counsel, were driven to police headquarters. The prisoner, handcuffed to Findley, was led through a large crowd that had gathered to see him. He was in a condition bordering on collapse when led up the steps into headquarters. Shortly after Lawyer Hart appeared and said in reply to inquiries: "Young is an innocent man. The police believe they have got him on an alleged confession, which he made before he had legal counsel. It shall be proven that Young was not even an accomplice."

Young Talks.

To Captain Titus Young made the following statement: "About three weeks ago I met a man named Charles Simpson Eiting in Central Park. He accosted me. We talked and got acquainted, though he was a degenerate. After that he called on me several times at my flat. On the night Mrs. Pulitzer died Eiting and I met her at Broadway and Forty-sixth street by appointment. We went to the flat together. I went out for some whisky, which I got, leaving Eiting and the woman alone. When I got back I found Mrs. Pulitzer lying across the bed with a gag in her mouth. Eiting had gone. I ripped open her clothing and moved her hands back and forth overhead to induce respiration. When she did not breathe I put my hand under her waist and felt her heart. It was not beating. Then I decided to notify the police but thought that instead of calling a policeman would go to the headquarters, which I thought was in the city hall. I got on a train and started down town and on the way I got to thinking what a lot of disgrace the affair would bring upon me and my father. That made me decide to get rid of the body. I took a long knife and cut into the body, intending to cut the body up so that I could get it into a trunk. When I made the first cut the odor was so awful that I could go no further."

Captain Titus said that the prisoner described Eiting as being a man about 25 years old, smooth face, five feet seven inches in height with a bright, clear look in his eyes, pale face and wearing dark clothes with a straw hat when last seen. That is all of the statement he made. He volunteered all of that. Knowing that his rights are being protected we cannot question him now."

Captain Titus said that Young had not explained how the woman came by the wounds on her head.

Young was arraigned on an affidavit made by Detective Sergeant Hughes and the hearing was set for Sept. 30. The proceedings were brief and without any unusual incident.

Meeting at Saratoga.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 23.—The Republican state convention met here for the preliminary work incidental to the naming of a state ticket and the drafting of a platform. Outside of delegates and alternates the spectators were few. Ex-Congressman Lemuel Ely Quigg was temporary chairman.

Mackay's Will Probated.

San Francisco, Sept. 23.—The will of the late John W. Mackay has been admitted to probate in this city and Clarence H. Mackay has taken his oath of executor.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Enthusiastically Received at the Capital of Hoosierdom. Indianapolis, Sept. 23.—President Roosevelt was the guest of Indianapolis for four hours. The special train bearing the presidential party arrived at Noble and Washington streets shortly before noon. The party was driven directly to Tomlinson hall, where he addressed the Spanish-American war veterans, now holding their annual reunion in this city.

The afternoon program was as follows: One o'clock, luncheon to the president at the Columbia club; 2 o'clock, president addressed the crowd in Monument Place from Columbia club balcony; 3 o'clock, president departed via Big Four for Muncie, Ind.

All along the route to Tomlinson hall, the chief executive of the nation was kept busy bowing his acknowledgment to the cheers. A great ovation him at the hall where he made his principal address. He was introduced by Senator Beveridge.

The president spoke in part as follows: "Owing to our position, we do not need a large regular army. Two or three years ago you remember how it was prophesied by certain perhaps not altogether serious alarmists that it was the intention of those in power continually to increase the size of our regular army until it should become a menace to our people at home. How comic the prophecy now seems. As a matter of fact at the present time advantage has been taken of the Philippine peace to reduce the army to but little more than two-thirds the number allowed by law.

Normally, however, in any contest, we must expect that in the future, as in the past, the bulk of the American army will be composed of volunteers. It should be our object in every way to encourage the national guards of the states and to build them up to the highest point of efficiency.

Referring to the trusts the president said: "We need to devise some machinery by which, while persevering in the policy of a protective tariff, in which I think the nation as a whole has now generally acquiesced, we would be able to correct the irregularities and remove the incongruities produced by the changing conditions, without destroying the whole structure. Such machinery would permit us to continue our definitely settled tariff policy while providing for the changes in duties upon particular schedules."

"Of course in making any changes we should have to proceed in accordance with certain fixed and definite principles and the most important of these is an avowed determination to protect the interests of the American producer, be he business man, wage-earner, or farmer."

Citizens Ask More Troops.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 23.—The strike situation at Lebanon has become so critical that troops may be ordered there by Governor Stone within 24 hours. A self-constituted committee of citizens of Lebanon waited upon the governor and earnestly requested that he furnish the city with military protection. The governor has the matter under consideration and unless the situation improves troops will likely be sent there to maintain order and protect life and property. The committee explained that the civil authorities were unable to maintain order and that the presence of troops was absolutely necessary. The committee was with the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and adjutant general for nearly two hours. The governor is keeping in touch with the situation and if there should be another outbreak troops will probably be sent immediately to the scene of the trouble.

Many Propositions Made

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 23.—In reply to a question as to whether he had received a proposition from members of the United Mine Workers to return to work on the basis of the plan suggested by President Baer, General Mining Inspector Luther of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company said that frequent propositions are made which are not worth increasing. He regarded the present proposition as of that kind, he said. President Baer's proposition, Superintendent Luther states, has been explained at length and needed no further elucidation. District officers of the United Mine Workers do not endorse the proposition and say the terms suggested would not be accepted by the union.

Piano Makers Strike.

New York, Sept. 23.—A strike of 700 piano and organ makers employed in several of the factories has gone into effect to enforce the demand for the 10 per cent increase of wages and an 8-hour day. Two thousand men gained the demand without a strike.

WOMEN ARE ARRESTED

Disturbances Are Continued In the Pennsylvania Coal Strike.

MORE TROOPS ORDERED TO THE FIELD.

President Mitchell Endeavors to Prevent Lawlessness Amongst the Mine Workers—Rioting is Lessened—Messenger Killed.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 23.—Five women and three men were arrested at Wiconisco by Sheriff Reiff and deputies for interfering with the non-union men at work in the Lykens valley colliery at Wiconisco and Lykens. The offenders were brought to Harrisburg and committed to jail in default of bail for trial at court. The charge against them is disorderly conduct. The barn of Jonathan Omholt, near Wiconisco, was destroyed by fire, which is believed to have been started by the strikers. Omholt is a coal hauler and two of his sons are working in the mines at Wiconisco.

A body of strikers visited the home of James Miller, a non-union man living near Wiconisco, took him from bed and beat him because he would not promise to keep away from the mines.

The mines at Lykens, at Wiconisco are working with a small force of non-union men. About 1,500 tons of coal were shipped from the Lykens valley region last Saturday. None has been shipped since that time.

Changing the Troops.

Shenandoah, Pa., Sept. 23.—General Gobin has gone to Scranton. Before going the general said the troops in the field would probably be changed in October. Just what disposition would be made of them, he will not know until he looks into the situation in Lackawanna county. It is likely, however, that the Eighth regiment will be taken away from here and succeeded either by the Thirteenth or the Fourth. A member of Company A, Eighth regiment, accidentally shot himself. With two soldiers he was making noise at the rear of John Coslett's store and Coslett ran out and asked them to move on. Two of them at once obeyed, but the other, it is alleged, drew his revolver and threatened to shoot Coslett. A few minutes later, the revolver was accidentally discharged by the soldier, the bullet going through his left hand. He was arrested and put in the lockup but was afterward released at the request of the officers of the company, who said they would be responsible for his presence if he was wanted.

Messenger Boy Killed.

Lebanon, Pa., Sept. 23.—This city is in a state of excitement. There were firing of pistols for hours in the vicinity of the American Iron and Steel works, where a strike is in progress. The colored men who had just arrived at the works were terrified, as were the colored citizens in the vicinity. William Hoffman, aged 17, was shot and has since died. He was a messenger for the American Iron and Steel company and had been attending an entertainment. On his way home he was struck by a bullet. The plant was surrounded by a threatening crowd.

The streets are filled with excited people and the plant of the American Iron and Steel company is under guard. There is a resentful feeling against the colored iron workers brought here from the south. A Lebanon citizen has received a flesh wound in his arm from a bullet fired by an unknown person.

Mitchell Counsels Peace.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 23.—President Mitchell declines to make any comment on the action of Sheriff Schadt of Lackawanna county, in calling on Governor Stone for troops. It is known, however, that he is displeased with strikers for pursuing a course which prompted the sheriff to make the appeal. A week ago, President Mitchell counseled all his followers to keep the peace. National Board Member Fallon thinks stationing soldiers in the Lackawanna country may be the means of suppressing marches, picketing and other demonstrations, but it will not give the operators any other advantage. On the other hand, the operators feel confident that the continued outbreaks of violence mean growing discontent among the strikers and that under the protection of the military arm of the state, the men will gradually return to work.

Rioting Has Ceased.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 23.—Nine companies of the Thirteenth regiment are in camp in a field near Hudnut. No repetition of disturbances has been reported. The rioting occurred at the "Ridge" in Winton borough, where there was a clash between rioters and a party of workmen reinforced by coal and iron police. John Burnett of Balafla, one of the police, was shot in the arm. The Hungarian who was shot in the attack upon Deputy Sheriff McAndrew and Superintendent Burkheiser, is dead.

VETERANS GET TOGETHER.

Spanish War Veterans and Spanish-American Veterans to Consolidate.

Detroit, Sept. 23.—A resolution favoring amalgamation with the Spanish-American war veterans was introduced at the convention of Spanish war veterans by Colonel Champe Andrews of New York and it was enthusiastically adopted by acclamation. Not a dissenting vote was heard. The resolution provides for the appointment of a committee of five to meet with a similar committee from the Spanish-American war veterans to discuss the details and arrange for amalgamation. General J. Warner Keifer, the first president of the society, and other delegates spoke in favor of the proposition before a vote was taken on the resolution. A resolution proposing to add the word "navy" to the society's name, making it the National Army and Navy Spanish War Veterans, was introduced and referred to the committee on resolutions.

Choate Considers Jew Question.

London, Sept. 23.—United States Ambassador Choate has returned here from Scotland to take up the Roumanian Jew question raised by Secretary Hay's note. In official circles no result other than calling public attention to the Jews' unfortunate condition is expected. A joint note to the Balkan government is not, however, wholly improbable.

The hopelessness privately entertained by the British foreign office of effecting a change of heart on the part of Roumanian government will not be allowed to interfere with the external course of the negotiations and there is still reason to believe that Mr. Hay's protest may result in a formal, joint note of the Berlin signatories demanding better treatment of the Jews. Regarding that point, however, nothing is definitely settled, but if it is done it will be more in a spirit of acquiescence with the humane sentiments expressed in Mr. Hay's appeal than to any belief that good will be accomplished.

Strikers' Pickets Patrol Creek.

Tamaqua, Pa., Sept. 23.—Strikers' pickets patrolled Panther Creek colliery in an effort to prevent non-union men from going to work, but no violence is reported. The collieries are working as usual and the operators report a few gains. East Lehigh colliery, an individual operation, is ready to start and the operators claim they are having applications for work daily. Those in a position to know say that if a break occurs in the strikers' ranks here it will be due to the small amount of relief being distributed. It is claimed that $2 a week is the largest amount a married striker can secure in sub-district No. 1. Throughout the Mahanoy and Shenandoah regions quiet is reported. Soldiers' pickets were out as usual.

Olympia Will Go South.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Rear Admiral Joseph B. Coglan, second in command on the North Atlantic squadron station, has been summoned to Washington to discuss the general situation in the West Indies before departing for those waters on board his flagship the Olympia. She will be sent to some central point in the Indies to watch developments in each of the turbulent republics which border the Caribbean. The threatened rupture between Great Britain and Venezuela promises fresh complications in the latter country and renewed outbreaks in Haiti are possible at any moment.

A Second Saratoga.

London, Sept. 23.—Frankfort Moore, the novelist, contributes a long article to the Morning Post, headed "America's Bargain," in which he gives personal observations of a recent visit to the Danish West Indies. Mr. Moore says: "These islands have the most intelligent population in the West Indies and St. Thomas is a modern town. The Americans will make it a second Saratoga, and it will become a center of American wealth."

Spark Caused $240,000 Fire.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 23.—A fire in the store of Louis Saks destroyed a 3-story building and its contents. The total loss on building and stock is $240,000, with $190,000 insurance. A spark from a live electric wire was the cause.

Non-Union Men Stoned.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 23.—Some non-union miners were stoned at Warrior Run and the sheriff sent two squads of deputies to the place. All is now reported quiet at the scene of the disturbance.

FRANCHISE QUESTION.

Senate Proceeds to Tackle the Tough Knot of the Code.

LIVELY TIMES IN THE COMMITTEES.

Power of Removing Municipal Officers to Be Vested in Probate Court Instead of the Mayor. Proceedings of Legislature.

Columbus, O., Sept. 23.—The senate adopted an amendment to the Nash code proposed by Senator Overturf, adding drunkenness and immorality to the grounds for removing municipal officers and places the power of removal in the probate court instead of the mayor. Whether the officers are appointive or elective, they may be thus removed. An amendment by Senator Judson giving clearness to the section providing for the publication of ordinances and other public information was adopted. The only other amendment of importance adopted places the regulation of billboards, signs, and stairways under the control of council.

Senator Archer introduced a bill in the senate which was read under a suspension of the rules, reimbursing County Treasurer Burgenhalter for $1,400 lost in a bank failure.

The franchise section in the Nash code came up as a special order in the senate and there is every indication that the Republicans and Democrats will line up almost solidly in favor of the substitutes submitted by their respective party leaders.

The meeting of the house code committee was an interesting one and full of animation, oratory and personal debates. Messrs. Williams and Guerin went after each other and the remainder of the committee went after these two. The discussion of the merit system gave rise to all the trouble and the committee recessed without having accomplished anything.

On the subject of remuneration for councilmen, the subcommittee reported a plan to pay councilmen upon a scale graded upon the amount upon the municipal tax duplicate, but this did not suit the committee and the plan was referred back to the subcommittee with instructions to make a scale graded upon the population.

Several of the subcommittees appointed by the house special committee presented to the committee their respective reports.

The franchise committee recommended the re-enactment of the present statutes on franchises, with elimination of several sections. The committee on police courts decided to place the line of demarcation at 30,000. The line may be raised by the special committee to 35,000 in order to cut out Canton. The library committee will provide for a library board for all municipal libraries and a special bill will be introduced to cover school libraries. The committee on parks decided that, if the plan of single heads of departments is placed upon the statute books, to provide for general park boards. This practically completes the work of the subcommittees and it is now the intention to report the completed code to the house Thursday morning.

All hope of securing consideration of the Seese school code seems to have been abandoned. Mr. Seese, author of the bill, and chairman of the house committee on common schools, called a meeting of his committee to consider the measure, but failed to appear himself.

Joe Miller, state secretary of the brewers' association, is here endeavoring to convince the legislators that they had made a mistake when they incorporated the local option law in a municipal code. He said that his attorneys had informed him that this would make it much more difficult to fight cases under it and that it must come out and its adjudication be left to the court.

Boxer Uprising in China.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 23.—The steamer Tacoma brings advices from Peking that the mandarins have been informed from Cheng Tu Sceuen that Li Lai Chung, principal chief of the Boxers of Shensi, and Lieutenant Prince Tuan arrived at Cheng Tu just prior to the outbreak and fomented the insurrection. The mere presence of this man arouses the Boxers to frenzies of enthusiasm.

Subsidized French Vessel.

Philadelphia, Sept. 23.—The first of a big fleet of French sailing vessels has arrived here to load oil for Japan. The Faulconiere earned 12,750 francs without having taken on board a pound of cargo. That sum is due to owners of vessel on her arrival under the bounty act.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says that the Republican bosses can settle the coal strike if they will. If they can and do not do so, what then? And if they can do so, why have they not done so before now?

CHAIRMAN GRIGGS, of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, in an interview declared: "President Roosevelt is our strongest speaker in the field." He believes the President's attack on the trusts will attract attention to the fact that the Democratic party is the only one ready for action against these combines. The President acknowledges that the trusts need curbing, but offers no practical plan to get at 'em.

THE Republican text-book says that— You do not have to guess what the Republican party will do.

On the other hand, President Roosevelt says that he cannot promise what a Republican Congress will do. He says that as for his duties he knows what he will do, but he couldn't speak for Congress. Isn't that the next thing to guessing? It only goes to illustrate the differences between the President and his party leaders on this subject.

THE Washington Post makes an emphatic denial of the Republican assertion that that party has exhausted its resources in efforts to diminish the extent and force of trust-evils, but asserts that "On the contrary, that party, in the Fifty-sixth and thus far in the Fifty-seventh Congress, has been extremely careful to avoid anything inimical to trust interests." The Post is anything but Democratic in its policy and this statement cannot but carry conviction.

A NUMBER of Republican doctors have offered the remedy for the trust evil. The Idaho Republicans say, "Remove all tariffs on trust-made goods." The Iowa Republicans prescribe, "Remove all tariff that affords shelter to monopoly." Doctor Babcock recommends that "we should not continue a tariff on articles of export, because they yield no revenue and enable their manufacturers to fix exorbitant prices in the domestic market."

It is this same remedy that the Democratic party indorses. Indeed, it is the remedy they have always insisted should be applied.

Why give the Constitutional amendment treatment, which is practically impossible, which gives little promise of being effective, when a few doses of tariff revision pills will effect a prompt and speedy cure?

THE stand taken by Governor Beckham in regard to the prize fight that failed to "pull off" at Louisville, will commend him to the confidence and respect of every good citizen of the State. There is no danger that Kentucky will ever cease to be the land of "sport" in its highest and best sense; but the toughs and rounders of the North pay us a small compliment in supposing that they can transfer to the leading city of this State the degrading ring contests that have been excluded from every other. It is not the so-called "brutalities" of the prize ring which revolt the moral sense of the people so much as the pernicious influences which accompany it. With an audacity that passes all belief, it even demands recognition of its statutory "rights" in the courts of the State. The cultivation of the art of self-defense certainly does not require the patronage of the gamester, the trickster, the pimp and the bawd. Even Mr. Roosevelt knows better than this.

"I feel as if I should fly to pieces." How often those words are on a woman's lips. They express to the uttermost the nerve racked condition of the body, which makes life a daily martyrdom.

If this condition had come suddenly it would have been unbearable. But the transition was gradual. A little more strain each day on the nerves. A little more drain each day of the vitality. Any woman would be glad to be rid of such a condition. Every woman tries to be rid of it. Thousands of such women have been cured by Dr. Pierce's treatment with his "Favorite Prescription" when local doctors had entirely failed to cure.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no opium, cocaine or other narcotic.

D. HUNT & SON

KENTUCKY CROPS.

Late Corn and Tobacco Have Improved, and With Continued Favorable Conditions Will Make Good Yield.

(Weekly Bulletin of Weather Bureau, Sept. 23rd.) Very cool weather prevailed during the first of the week, but it ended with the temperature above the normal. Fairly abundant rainfall occurred, but it was rather irregularly distributed. While many places have received a bountiful supply of moisture, there are some localities suffering severely from drouth; this is especially true of the extreme eastern counties.

The frosts which occurred last week caused but very little damage. Tobacco in lowlands was injured to some extent, but the damage was not serious.

Early tobacco has been housed and is curing well. Late tobacco has improved rapidly during the past week; it will need from ten days to two weeks of favorable weather to properly mature the late tobacco in the western section.

Late corn shows a decided improvement and the crop, as a whole, will not be far below the average.

Pastures are improving rapidly. Irish potatoes are very fine, but sweet potatoes only fair. Late garden vegetables are in good condition. Stock peas are doing well since the rains.

The sowing of winter wheat is in progress and farm work is fairly well up.

Dearing and the Degenerates.

Editor of Bulletin: The Republican party has fallen from its estate of respectability under Gov. Bradley into irremediable degeneracy under a few self-seeking Federal office holders. Overshadowed by the stupendous crime of murdering William Goebel, it is now a mere faction of mugwumps, mountebanks, moonshiners and abettors of assassination. No respectable Kentuckian desires hand, act, or part with such a conglomeration of infamy. The farce of setting up candidates for Judicial and Congressional honors has, under the auspices of Federal officials, gone on, but defeat of the most crushing character awaits the degenerates. Mr. W. G. Dearing, of Flemingsburg, the nominee of the faction for the Court of Appeals in the Sixth district, addressing a Congressional convention at Bellevue, which nominated a deserter from the Democracy, Mr. L. P. Applegate for the distinction of defeat has had the hardihood to express himself thus:

"The office of Judge of the Court of Appeals is the highest office in the land. Questions of the most vital importance are settled by the Court of Appeals, and a man who holds the position should be a man who will render his decisions without fear or favor. He should render them according to the law and the facts. He should cast aside politics and not consider favor, family or friends. Your property might be in jeopardy to-day, or you might be in the balance to-morrow. The last resort is to the Court of Appeals, and for that reason these men who comprise the court should be honest, fearless, Christian men, who know no politics after assuming their duties."

Mr. Dearing, do honest, fearless, Christian men endorse or palliate murder? What would you do as Judge in the case of W. S. Taylor, now a fugitive from Kentucky justice? Are you honest, fearless, a Christian enough to declare for the punishment of such a criminal? You know very well you will be snowed under by a majority of from 5,000 to 10,000 indignant voters. You have not the slightest hope of election. Hence this empty talk, almost blasphemous in your case of honest, fearless, Christian conduct.

Your political career of tergiversation and treachery proves you incapable of elevated moral, political or judicial action. The Democracy of Kentucky, reunited by duty's call, is invincible. It will this year achieve a victory of surpassing magnitude. Dearing and the degenerates will be effaced in the Sixth judicial district. The honest, fearless, Christian candidate of the moonshiners, mugwumps, mountebanks and abettors of assassination will be crushingly defeated in his own home county.

School the Shoulders.

It is not at play, but at work, that children get round shouldered, and they have several months of work ahead of them. A little help during the growing period will insure square shoulders, while neglect may mean a defect that will never be remedied. We have to think of these things for the children; they will not worry about them until after their bodily habits are fixed.

We have the Knickerbocker shoulder braces. They are the best, the very latest and most approved designs. They don't cost a great deal, and you can't estimate the good they may do.

The Big Store Always Leads!

WHAT WE SAY, WE DO—WHAT WE DO, WE SAY. But there is more in the doing than the saying, at least at this store. The largest business centers here because we carry the largest lines.

Our aim is right—that's what the target says. YOU ARE THE TARGET. Our first shot was to carry the goods that other merchants don't carry. It was a pretty good AIM, wasn't it? We use the new shot right—bound to hit. Some merchants use the old sight—hit once in a while.

Last week was the largest Dress Goods week this store has seen. People going to the Fall Festival. Poor Cincinnati! Her own people won't buy at home, so she gets a band of music and has the railroad fare reduced to get the country folks to come to town (so they say) to buy their fall goods. No wonder they call it a festival. Change the name—Cincinnati—its meaning is too plain.

Dress Goods we said—largest line in Maysville—as good as any in the United States. We are Kings of Dress Goods—Zibeline, Boucle, Camel's Hair, Scotch Suiting, Panama, Broadcloth, Venetian, Cheviots, Serges, Hop Sacking, Barett Cloth, Granite, plain and fancy; Olympian Cloth, Pebble Cheviot, Tonga Cloth, Cote De Cheval and Satinette are a few of our styles.

If we can't suit you, you don't wear skirts.

ANOTHER LARGE CLASS.

Wyandotte Tribe of Red Men Adopted Fifty-Three Palefaces Last Night—Now Has 300 Members.

A month or two ago Wyandotte Tribe No. 3, I. O. R. M., adopted a class of 114 palefaces, and some people thought the limit had then been reached. The faithful workers, however, didn't agree with them, but renewed their efforts with the result that last evening another class numbering fifty-three were adopted. This gives the tribe 300 members.

The work last evening was beautifully exemplified at Washington Opera House by the degree team, and was witnessed by a large crowd.

Peck's Bad Boy.

Peck's Bad Boy needs no introduction; during his career he has amused millions, and he will continue doing so for years to come. It is impossible to describe the antics of the boy, and the means he finds to make an audience enjoy his practical jokes. He will give full play to his spirits at Washington Opera House Saturday, Sept. 27th, for matinee and night, and will be supported in his endeavors by a strong cast, and one of the largest lists of specialty artists ever seen in a musical farce comedy. Be sure and see the boy this time. He is funnier than ever before.

See Our Windows.

Don't delay buying one of those handsome marbelized clocks—are fully warranted. They are the best values ever offered for the price. With handsome gold-bronze finish, fine movement and gong strike. MURPHY, the jeweler.

THE BLOODHOUNDS.

They Did Fine Work in the Soward Robbery Case—Trail Led to a Nego Cabin on Neighboring Farm.

Mr. N. Gollenstein, who has charge of Mason County's bloodhounds, returned last evening from an interesting man hunt in the Upton Soward neighborhood between Orangeburg and Mt. Carmel. Mr. Soward's home was entered by a thief the night before and a large sum of money stolen. The money amounting to $515 was locked up in a trunk, which the thief secured and carried from the house. The circumstances surrounding the case all indicated that the guilty party was some one well acquainted with Mr. Soward's home and likewise with his financial matters. Mr. Soward had sold a mule to a neighbor Monday, and the thief was undoubtedly after the money Mr. S. had received for the animal. This money Mr. Soward had kept in his pocket, however, and while the thief did not secure it yet he made a much larger haul.

It was after noon when Mr. Gollenstein reached the Soward home. The latter had left his kitchen unlocked the night before, and the thief had no trouble in effecting an entrance. He had taken Mr. Soward's keys from the latter's clothing and securing the trunk had departed with the prize. The hounds were loosed and told to find the man. Taking a trail from where the trunk had rested, they passed out through the yard and down across an orchard. About two hundred yards from the house they found the trunk. It had been opened and the money, $515, was gone, but Mr. Soward's bank books and papers were found all right. The keys were hanging in the lock.

Again the dogs were told to find the man. Taking the trail they followed it to the public road, then to the home of a Mr. Davis, a brother-in-law of Mr. Soward. Here the hounds followed the trail to a negro cabin in the yard, and entering it, went to a rug on the floor, where it was learned a negro man living there had slept the night before. They were still urged on, and followed a trail to the house, then to a well in the yard, then back to the house, thence to the stable, thence to a pasture field near by, then back to the stable, where the trail was lost.

By questioning the negro women, Mr. Gollenstein learned that the negro man who had slept on the rug had on getting up gone to the house, and had then gotten a bucket of water from the well for them; that he had then gone to the stable for a bridle, and had from the stable proceeded to the pasture and gotten a horse, and on returning to the stable had mounted the horse and gone to work in a field near by. Two other negroes were with him in the field. They were sent for. The suspected man refused to come for some time; the others came promptly. When all were present, Mr. Gollenstein again told the dogs to find their man. They paid no attention to any of the others, but running to the fellow suspected, they gave every indication that

ROBBERY CHARGED.

Suit Against Pennsylvania Railroad Company Will Ask For $3,000,000.

St. Louis, Sept. 23.—Judge Burroughs of Edwardsville, sitting on the bench of the Edwards county court, has entered a decree appointing N. C. Begote of Belleville, receiver of the property of the Vandalia railroad. The receiver has qualified and the court has issued an order authorizing him to bring suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad company and the Indianapolis and Terre Haute Railroad company for the restitution of $3,000,000. Of the $3,000,000 which will be sued for, $2,200,000 represent dividends paid to the defendants on preferred stock alleged to have been fraudulently issued. Other items make up the balance.

The litigation which has culminated in this authorization to begin this suit has been pending for several years. It was instituted by the town of Vandalia and Edward L. Thomas of Belleville, minority stockholders. It was based on the claim that the Pennsylvania company and the Indianapolis and Terre Haute company, which became majority stockholders by purchase, "defrauded and plundered" the minority stockholders by a systematic robbery.

MR. JOHN B. HAWES.

Father of County Assessor Hawes Passes Away Tuesday at a Ripe Old Age.

The venerable John B. Hawes, one of Minerva's oldest citizens, died Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at his home in that village. He was eighty years of age and had been failing for some time.

Mr. Hawes was a native of Maysville and at one time owned considerable real estate on Second street, opposite the opera house. He spent a great part of his life at Minerva, where he served for thirty years as postmaster. Surviving him are a number of children, all grown, among them County Assessor Wm. Hawes, also Mr. Frank Hawes who recently moved from this city to Augusta. The funeral will take place Thursday at 2 p. m.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23rd.—Seldom, if ever, have the Christian people of this place had an enjoyment of higher order or purer tone, than was embraced in the delightful series of sermons just brought to a close, and delivered at the Christian Church in the "old town" by Rev. R. E. Moss, the gifted and eloquent young pastor of the Maysville church—a leadership and ministry marked by most encouraging progress. Each evening for two weeks, delightful audiences sat in rapt attention under the forceful preaching of this able young divine, whose cogency of reasoning, fervor of feeling and confident faith was given out with such clearness and grace of diction that a deep and not-to-be-forgotten impression was the effect upon his many hearers.

In his closing sermon on Sunday night he reached the "heights sublime," taking for his subject the question of deepest import to "mortal man," "Where Shall I Spend Eternity?" the appropriate text for which was, "For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world

The city of Washington has set a good example to American municipalities in the matter of tree planting. Within its limits there are now less than 80,000 shade trees, and it is unnecessary to dwell on the added beauty they lend to the place. Paris has an even greater number, and it is said that $60,000 is expended annually by the latter city in the care of them and in setting out of new ones. Every street of a certain width is entitled to a row of trees on either side and every street of a certain greater width to a double row.

Apart from their humble office as givers of shade and preservers of streams, trees minister more than we can guess to our hourly pleasure. Yet we are so thoughtless of them that we take their benefits without a word of gratitude for the most part.
